FEBRUARY

Dear Monroe City Schools Community,

As we move forward into February, I want to take a moment to express my heartfelt appreciation for each of you. The start to this year has brought unexpected challenges, but it has also revealed the incredible strength and unity of our school community.

The aftermath of Winter Storm Fern tested our resilience in ways we never imagined, yet your unwavering commitment to our students and to each other has been truly inspiring. From clearing debris to ensuring our classrooms were ready to welcome students back safely, your dedication has made a powerful difference. Recovery isn't just about repairs and restoration—it's about coming together, supporting one another, and finding new ways to grow in the face of adversity. Let's carry this spirit of perseverance and teamwork into the weeks ahead. Every day, you make a positive impact, and your hard work is not unnoticed. I encourage you to keep pushing forward, to lean on each other, and to remember that together, we are stronger than any challenge that comes our way.

Thank you for your continued passion, flexibility, and care. Our students and community are fortunate to have such an extraordinary team.

Sam Moore, III
Superintendent
